Riverwood Ranch Biosecurity and Vaccination Protocol

Riverwood Ranch Ltd. is committed to maintaining a safe and healthy environment for all horses on the property. All horses boarded or trained at Riverwood Ranch (long-term residency, permanent boarders, or training program horses) are required to follow the Vaccination Protocol outlined below. Documented proof of vaccination must be provided prior to acceptance onto the property. Horses entering the ranch for haul-ins, lessons, clinics, camps, or specialty events are not mandated to provide proof of vaccination. However, Riverwood Ranch strongly recommends that all visiting horses follow the same vaccination protocol required of resident horses. By signing this document, participants acknowledge that they have been informed of and strongly encouraged to follow this protocol. If a visiting horse later becomes a permanent boarder or enters a training program, full compliance and documentation will then be required prior to residency. Riverwood Ranch reserves the right to refuse entry or remove any horse showing signs of illness.

Please note yearly vaccination must cover the following

- West Nile
- Tetanus
- Eastern Equine Encephalitis
- Western Equine Encephalitis
- Equine Rhinopneumonitis
- Equine Influenza
- Equine Strangles

The application (4way, 2 way, 5 way ect) is impartial as long as ALL vaccinations are administered. A receipt from your local veterinarian will be sufficient. Please ensure that if ALL of these vaccinations have not been given yearly, (minimum 2 years consecutively) that a booster shot is given 3-4 weeks after the initial vaccination. The booster vaccination needs to be administered a minimum 1 month prior to your scheduled arrival date at the ranch (with a preference to this process being done well ahead of time).

All horses boarded at the facility long-term, will require yearly vaccinations for the listed above vaccinations.

In summary you will need to provide one of the following:

a. One record of this year's vaccinations and one record of last year's vaccination, one month prior to arrival

b. One record of this year's vaccination and one record of this year's booster vaccination (conducted 3-4 weeks after the first vaccination), one month prior to arrival

Owners are responsible for maintaining adequate health care for their horse. This includes deworming, hoof care, dental care and any other necessary veterinary care as required. If your horse shows signs of infectious disease such as: nasal charge, cough, swelling under the jaw, or a temperature over 38.5 Celsius, you are required to immediately notify the Riverwood Ranch Manager. This horse may be isolated and restricted from participation in Riverwood Events or refused/removed from the premises.

Please call the clinic or Riverwood Ranch directly if you have any questions or concerns.

Please note that you have read and agreed upon the requirements and recommendations outlined by Riverwood Ranch and Westhills Equine Veterinary Services.
